WILDLIFE ORGANIZATIONS
FILL 16-PAGE DIRECTORY

- - - - -

Wildlife conservationists, though not so effectively organized as they might be, have more than 300 central organizations. Names and addresses of the organizations and their officials fill a 16-page directory.

This list, compiled by Frank G. Grimes of the U. S. Biological Survey, has been issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture as Miscellaneous Publication No. 231, and entitled "Officials and Organizations Concerned with Wildlife Protection, 1935."

The new directory--the 35th annual edition--is for officials charged with the administration and enforcement of game laws and for the convenient use of persons desiring to communicate with officials and organizations concerning wildlife conditions throughout the United States and Canada. The directory includes only national or state organizations. Copies may be obtained at 5 cents each from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C.
